QEIIHK 9297 Postage Stamps

Description

The collected stamps were the last issued the Queen Elizabeth II portrait stamps in Hong Kong - The seventh issue from 1992 to 1997 Queen Elizabeth II Definitive Stamps. This recycled artwork idea was inspired from an abstract horizon pattern with a total of 104 postage stamps with the post office's hand postmarks. It used brown and orange colors with different types of stamp values and it was hand-glued on white paper board. Also, It is framed in wooden finish.

As a childhood hobby, I collected many stamps from envelopes and they were soaked and dried. I was curious that it had divided colorful palette colors for stamp values. Unfortunately, I just placed it somewhere and forgot it. Many years later, I decided to transform them to become affordable artworks. It targeted those who are interested in Hong Kong stamp history and appreciate the UK's late queen - The Queen Elizabeth II.
